KRAUS INTRODUCES NEW GLASS SINK COLLECTION

The Nature Series: Inspired by the Elements, Perfected by Design

11/12/2013 • Port Washington, NY

Interior design trends may come and go, but some principles are universal: The desire for comfortable and beautiful surroundings, nature-inspired colors and textures, and easily maintained elegance. Bathroom design in particular showcases the increasing need for soothing, natural décor; the bath is evolving into a special retreat, a place to relax and enjoy. Kraus, a company committed to top-level craftsmanship, addresses this need by making stylish, high-quality products accessible to a wide range of customers. Guided by meticulous trend research, Kraus aims to provide a spa-like look and feel for the home without sacrificing either quality or design. With this concept in mind, they have introduced the Nature Series, a collection of beautiful and durable glass vessel sinks that combine performance and style at an attainable price.

The Nature Series reflects a move by Kraus toward designs inspired by Earth's elemental beauty. There is nothing more suited to echo the rich hues and organic textures of nature than glass, so Kraus works with the fluidity of the material to capture a dazzling assortment of colors in every handcrafted sink. Layered patterns highlight the array of colors and form a dynamic surface for flowing water, giving the sinks maximum visual impact in any setting. With colors ranging from the lush green palette of a rolling hillside, to the burning-red of autumn leaves, to the earthy tones of a sun-warmed forest floor, to the crisp ice-blue of glacial peaks, Nature Series sinks become the focal point of any bathroom. Universal design principles give the Nature Series the versatility to look striking in a variety of settings: clean modern spaces, softer transitional environments, or eclectically styled rooms.

With a growing number of homeowners looking to easily create a cohesive look for the entire bathroom, Kraus has designed a range of faucets to seamlessly integrate with their sinks. A number of available finishes presents even more possibilities for customization.

For individuals that are seeking a gradual evolution toward contemporary style, minimalist designs can be dressed up with traditional finishes. A chrome-finished faucet establishes a modern edge, while the softer glow of brushed nickel and the rich, matte hue of oil-rubbed bronze lend themselves to a more subtle, transitional or vintage-inspired look. The variety of sink and faucet combinations offered by Kraus provides the opportunity to create maximum visual impact in any bathroom.

Every Kraus product is carefully designed and intelligently manufactured with the highest-quality materials, which ensures that the timeless beauty of each Nature Series sink will be matched by its durability. Kraus Nature Series glass sinks are available through numerous online retailers and in select showrooms nationwide. Please visit www.kraususa.com for more information on the Nature Series, as well other Kraus collections.
